

These Lines Were Written By Mrs. H. D. Phillips In Memory of Her Daughter, Daisy, Aged Sixteen.

There came to earth one happy day
A baby girl to cheer my way;
And day by day her face to me
Was all the joy I wished to see.
I found within this life so bright
Such perfect comfort and delight
And as the days and months passed by,
My home was happy, I know why.
She never left me scarce a day,
And I can hear her sweet voice say:
"Mamma, please let me go a little way,
I will not linger, will not stay!"
And on and on, as years rolled by,
We clung together, she and I,
In the same sweet way we kept onigh,
Our thoughts together close did lie.
She walked, talked, and played with mother,
And in her life there seemed no other;
So all along the journey's way,
The path was happy, bright and gay.
At night she would on the table place,
Her books; there would she face to face,
So softly did the hours go by,
The time was gone, ere we thought it
Nigh.

Ah! I must pause and linger here,
To look through memory's halls so dear,
And feel again the happy bliss
Of those "sweet hours" and the goodnight kiss.

Another day there came to earth
A loving angel to cheer my birth;
And when I found his presence there,
It seemed too hard for me to bear.

I played with an angel heart
That this Death Angel would depart
And leave my darling here to stay
To cheer my life, yes, day by day.

But, to my wondering came the "Nay,"
I need her here, she must go away.
Thus in my anguish and despair
I gave to Jesus all my care.

Since Daisy's sweet face has gone away,
It seems so hard for me to stay;
Yet the mission that I try to fill,
And be submissive to His will.
January 31, 1905.

Looking Forward.

Sing a song of sunshine,
Spring is on the way,
Hosanna time is near,
Every blessed day.

Days are getting longer,
Winter's almost done,
Soon the ice-locked rivers
Will begin to run.

When the little crocus
Tells you it is spring,
Then the merry robins
Will begin to sing.

Violets are waiting!
Underneath the snow,
Says to the winter:
"Hurry up and go!"

Sing a song of sunshine,
Sun is climbing high,
Good old April feels
Get us by his side!"

Startling But True.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago fire in which nearly 500 people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number, or over 3,000 people, died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have wardened it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and Specially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia." W. D. Wilcox, Logan, New York. Sold by Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

Brown—What did your wife say last night when you began to explain why you didn't get home earlier?
Green—She said my originality compared favorably with the jokes in an Almanac.—Chicago News.

I never loved a sweet gazelle
Or calf or cow with limpid eye
Too dearly to refuse to sell
Especially when beef was high.

KINGSVILLE.

There was a show at McCarty's opera house last week, which was pronounced first-class.

There are several exchanges about to be made in real estate in this section. Robert Smith bought a small place here from Emmet McCormack, of Hustonville, for $75.

Mrs. Eliza Rineer is receiving new goods and will soon have to enlarge her store-room. All the stores carry a good line of everything, but trade, as a result of the weather, is now somewhat dull.

A railroad official here says the cost of the large pond and water-tank was at least $10,000, instead of $30,000, as we stated in a letter recently. The company will widen the lake and make other improvements.

Thompson & Evans are putting in a new shingle mill and have also rented the Presbyterian church, which has been practically abandoned for services for several years, and will use it as a warehouse for lumber. The business of this enterprising firm is steadily increasing.

Perry Bryant and family will move to Somerset. Miss Dora Higney spent a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Lora Hunt, at Highland. Mrs. J. W. Anson has had the grip. Master Harold Chevrolet is critically ill with membranous croup. Ely Hoopes is able to out after a long siege of typhoid fever. George Bradley is with his homelike here.

If I Should Die.

If I should die to-night,
And you should come to my cold corpse
and say,
Weeping and heartless o'er my lifeless clay—

If I should die to-night,
And you should come in deepest grief
and woe,
And say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe,"

I might arise in my large white cravat,
And say "What's that?"
If I should die to-night,
And you should come to my cold corpse
and kneel,
Clapping my hier to show the grief you feel;

I say, if I should die to-night,
And you should come to me, and there,
and then,
Just even list that you would pay that ten.

I might arise the while:
But I'd drop dead again.

Afraid of Strong Medicines.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that a quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally.

Rev. Amos Parker, of Magolia, North Carolina, suffered for eight years with a lame hip, due to severe rheumatic pains. He has been permanently cured by the free application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

Recipe.

If food no longer tastes the same
Whatever cause they take;
If you are sighing for the stuff
That Mother used to make:

Arise at four and milk the cows,
Go out and feed the hogs,
Then, just to while the time away
Split up some hickory logs

So stop, before you kick about
The difficult and the care,
And get the kind of appetite
Your mother used to make

Agonizing Burns

Are instantly relieved and perfectly healed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. C. R. Ebenbark, Jr., of Norfolk, Va., writes: "I burnt my knee so dreadfully that it blistered it all over. Bucklen's Arnica Salve stopped the pain and healed it without a scar. It also heals all wounds and sores." See Dr. Penny's Drug Store, Stanford, and Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard.

Fire at Cedar Rapids, Ia., destroyed property worth $250,000.

NEWS NOTES.

The bank of Lebanon, Oregon, was blown open and robbed of $6,000.

The date of the Confederate reunion at Louisville has been finally fixed at June 16-18.

Three hundred children at Striker, O., had a narrow escape when a school building was burned.

A section crew of three men was killed in a wreck on a logging road in Coconino county, Arizona.

A Chicago girl poured oil over her clothing and offered herself a living sacrifice to a new religious organization.

The main elevator of the Liberty Mill Co., at Nashville, containing 5,000 bushels of wheat, burned, the loss amounting to $75,000.

The official directory of the Catholic Church for 1905 gives the Catholic population under the American flag as 25,353,492. Of these 12,497,790 are in America and 7,055,699 in the Philippines.

The court of appeals extended to Feb. 15 the writ of prohibition against the Fayette court in the Hargis case, ordered the appearance of 17 witnesses for oral examination and made the Commonwealth a party defendant with Judge Parker.

At Winchester the deposition of Moses Felton, charged with contempt of court is not testifying in the recent Marcum Hargis damage suit, was taken before a notary public.

The defendant made sensational statements, among them that he was approached by B. F. French, who stated that the Hargises must have J. R. Marcum killed and that Felton was wanted to commit the murder. Felton said he consented, but later changed his mind. The plans were to shoot Marcum either from the college building or from the court house.

He said Tom White refused to fire from the court house because at that time Marcum had his child in his arms.

Monday night Felton was handed a letter threatening him if he should give his deposition. He was informed that he would be prosecuted for robbing the mails, for killing one James Frazer and for other crimes. The letter was given to the sheriff, who sent it to Judge Benton, who is holding court at Richmond.

CURES WITHOUT STOMACH DOSING.

Hymel Cures Catarrh by Simple Breathing. Penny Refunds Money if It Fails To Cure.

A long stride towards solving the mystery of curing catarrh was taken with the discovery of Hymel. In fact, the percentage of cures by this treatment proves it equal to the final test.

The folly of taking medicine into the stomach to cure catarrh of the nose, the throat and the lungs, has been realized by physicians, but not until Hymel was known had they a practical method that would obviate stomach dosing.

A complete Hymel outfit costs but $1 and consists of a neat pocket inhaler that can be used anywhere without attracting attention, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hymel. Extra bottles of Hymel cost but 10 cents.

Breathing Hymel through the inhaler every particle of air that enters the nose, throat and lungs is charged with a healing balsam that soothes and allays all irritation, kills the catarrhal germs and enriches the blood with additional ozone.

Hymel has so much faith in the power of Hymel to cure catarrh that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give positive relief.

Woman's Weak Point.

She can fool the men about her age. And fool 'em 'bout her wealth; Their doubts as to her past assuage, And those about her health.

She fools 'em 'bout her temper, too; Of that there is no doubt; But there's no chance for trickery When she's growing stout.

In case the chap likes tresses light, While her's are dark in hue, The change is safe and simple quite, And she knows what to do. The tailor man, though thin she be, Can always help things out; But there's no chance for trickery When she's growing stout.

Poisons In Food.

Perhaps you don't realize that many pain poisons originate in your food, but some day you may feel a twinge of dyspepsia that will convince you. Dr. King's New Life Pills are guaranteed to cure all sickness due to poisons of indigestible food—or money back. 25c at Penny's Drug Store, Stanford, and Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard. Try them.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

J. B. Edwards was appointed postmaster at Poplarville, Pulaski county. Charles Reed, aged 21, and Miss Mary V. Barnett, aged 18, were married at Rowland yesterday.

In a wreck on the Southern railroad near Lexington, Fireman L. Beckett was crushed to death.

Representative-elect Edwards has recommended to the President Isaac N. Bryson for postmaster at Corbin.

L. M. Smith was elected city attorney of Harrodsburg to succeed Fodney Keenon, who was given a clerkship by Appellate Clerk Morgan Chiles.

Marion Meene has been appointed postmaster at Coib, Putnam county, Thomas R. Kelsey at Sumner, Wayne county, and Mattie Bryant at Wofford, Whitley county.

Indictments were returned at London against Charlie Green for killing his father, Milt Green, at Altamont, and George McNeil for killing Elmer Murphy at Pittsburg. Both indictments are for murder.

John Todd, a farmer, is dead at his home near Lancaster, after a few days' illness, the result of a surgical operation which necessitated the amputation of both feet, which were frozen during the recent zero weather. He leaves a large family.

At Richmond Judge Benton sustained the validity of the act of the last Legislature in prohibiting education of the races in Kentucky. The demurrer of Berea College to the indictment against it for violation of the law was overruled, and the case will now be tried on its merits.

Iron Fish, an N. agent at Rowland, has made one of the new-fashioned "side-sweep" telegraph keys so extensively advertised in the electrical journals. It does the same work and answers the same purposes as the one advertised as a wrist-actuator, as a splendid piece of workmanship.—Lancaster Record.

Billy Foster, a Wayne county man, who jumped from a train near the Russell Cave neighborhood several days ago, issued with grief over the death of his wife, was found by Deputy Sheriff Ben Preckmar and John McElroy, of Lexington, in a half starved and frozen condition. He was taken to the St. Joseph Hospital, where he is being tenderly cared for.

While the late Col. Thomas P. Oehlertree was fond of children, he was not fond of spoiled children, and crying babies were sure to get his temper on edge. One day he was calling on a lady who had humored her child into the most spoiled condition imaginable. He was an unmitigated little annoyance and trial, and when he could not monopolize the attention of the caller in any other way he began to cry. The mother expressed a fear that the crying annoyed the visitor.

"Not at all, madam," replied the colonel. "I am always delighted to hear children cry."

"Indeed? Why so?"

"Because then they are immediately sent out of the room in all well-regulated families."

Six Ways to Win a Woman.

Johann Hoch, of Bluebeard "fame," is the author of the following rules, evolved from his experience with the 41 women whom he married, seized and deserted:

Nine out of every ten women can be won by flattery.

Never let a woman know her own shortcomings.

Always appear to the woman to be the anxious one. Women like to be told pleasant things about themselves. When you make love be ardent and earnest.

The average man can fool the average woman if he will only let her have her own way at the start.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. This is to warn you to beware of such people, who seek to profit, through stealing the reputation of remedies which have been successfully curing disease, for over 35 years. A sure protection, to you, is our name on the wrapper. Look for it on all Dr. King's or Bucklen's remedies, as all others are imitations.

H. E. BUCKLEN & CO., Chicago, Ill., and Windsor, Canada.

The storm which had lasted 24 hours made the streets so slippery at Columbia, S. C., that the horses were unable to keep their footing, so 60 men, members of a fraternal order to which the dead man belonged, drew the hearse two miles to the cemetery Monday.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

E. C. WALTON

No sooner had the INTERIOR JOURNAL laid down the law to the Legislature than it came to time with the passage of a bill to accept the Hut site for the new Capitol and prepared to adjourn. The session cost the State over $30,000, but those who are in position the better to judge way it is money well spent, as it gives a commanding location for a million-dollar edifice and preserves the present Capitol buildings for the use of the government during the several years that it will take to complete the new ones, and thereafter for important purposes. The Hut site, some of our readers may not know, is perhaps a mile and a half or two miles from the present Capitol, on the river on the opposite side. The location of the site will cause the whole of Frankfort to readjust itself and greatly enhance the value of property on the South Side, with a corresponding decrease of values on the North Side, and this is perhaps the reason that the North-Siders fought a change of location so strongly. While a majority of the people, doubtless, opposed the dumping of a million dollars in Frankfort, there will be a general feeling of relief that the city under the hill will continue for another hundred years at least to be the capital of Kentucky. There will also be a feeling of relief that the "45 per diem per day" statesmen have let go and returned to their more suitable walks of life.

"MIDDLEBORO is booming" is the heading of a dispatch from the ex-Metropolis City. This would be good news if it didn't take so little to create a boom in the Yellow Creek village. We remember once upon a time that Mr. Arnold, editor of one of the ill-fated newspapers that grew and flourished for a few days at Middleboro, made a visit to Stanford. In the course of his peregrinations with us during the day, we came across a carpenter replacing a cellar door with a new one. "Have you had a notice of this year paper?" inquired the scribbler. We answered him that small matters as that occupied no space in the INTERIOR JOURNAL, when he remarked: "Such an improvement would get a two-column notice if it were made in my town." Evidently the spirit of Mr. Arnold goes marching on in the most pretensions of the boom towns, where thousands of suckers were caught and skinned.

COLORADO, after a repeal of the law of capital punishment for 26 years, has just returned by Supreme Court decision to the unimproved method of dealing with murderers, that of taking a life for a life. This Legislature enacted the legality of the gallows, but the constitutionality of the enactment was questioned, hence a resort to the highest courts, which has clinched the matter and ordered that the condemned who appealed that the question of death must suffer the penalty. Moralists and sentimentalists may write and rave about the barbarity of a law which takes a human life, but the fact remains that no other punishment has been devised which is so effective in which so completely puts the murderer and assassin out of business.

AMONG the charges against Federal Judge Swayne, who is before Congress for impeachment, is one that he drew $10 a day for his hotel bill. That was of course, a reprehensible and larcenous proceeding, which calls for condemnation, but what Congressmen can cast the first stone at the deceased judge, when he himself has held the government of 20 cents a mile both ways from his home to Washington, when he rode on a free pass and luxuriated in a Pullman Palace, also furnished him without money and without price?

AN Ohio woman who sued her husband for divorce proved that he had compelled her to move 43 times in nine years and the judge granted her petition without hesitation, saying that the claim of cruel and inhuman treatment was fully sustained. Husband may have found it cheaper to move than to pay rent but to lose a patient and long suffering wife by it, and such a wife is to be prized more than rubies.

"THERE'S many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," is doubtless fully realized by Sherman Cooper, of Somerset, who thought by this statement would be holding the good office of collector of this district. Teddy decided to hold up the appointment for a while and Judge Denton is still master of the collector's office, with fairly good prospects of remaining such.

THE statement is made that there are in Kentucky prisons 18 men under sentence of death. Such a state of affairs is deplorable. Such a state of affairs is more deplorable is the fact that to since the unlucky 13 would feel the halberd drawn with bad opinion of the law, if half of the red headed murderers in the State should get their deserts.

THE way of the transgressor is hard indeed. This is as much of a truism as that murder will out. For a while the Hargies were able to put on a bold face and hide their site from the world. They accumulated money rapidly and were given offices of honor and trust, besides being held in high esteem by those who thought them lambs, while inwardly they were ravening wolves. Their star seems about to set now, however, as every judicial investigation of the assassinations that have occurred in bloody Breathitt forge other lines to the chain of evidence that seems to spread through as the real head of the conspiracy to get rid of those whom they imagined in their way. Their good names, their fortunes and their political prestige are fast being swept away and if they do not suffer the disgrace of death and imprisonment they will owe it to the quibbles and technicalities of the law.

This official count of the electoral vote shows that Roosevelt and Parkerbank received 336 votes and Parkerbank and Davis 140 Parker's great telegram on a little figure in the decision of the great common people.

POLITICAL.

It is believed in Washington that Collector Frank, of Owensboro, will be reappointed collector of internal revenue for the Second district. A bill has been introduced in the Illinois Legislature by the only colored member of that body, aimed at the correction of mob violence in that State. President Roosevelt sent a message to Congress recommending that through survey of the Philippine Islands. The work, he says, will require eight or ten years, and should be begun in the near future.

After a continuous sitting of nearly nine hours, the Senate passed the Statehood Bill, it provides for Statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one State and New Mexico as another State. Arizona is left out and will apply to the next Congress for admission as a separate State in case the bill passed by the Senate is conferred in by the House. The bill originated in the House and will go to conference.

C. W. Post, of Battle Creek, Mich., has filed with President pro tempore Frye, of the Senate, a petition asking the expulsion of Senator Platt, of New York. The petition charges that Senator Platt, as president of the United States Express Company, is participating in a conspiracy entered into by various companies to violate the anti-trust law, and is using his official position to protect the conspiracy by opposing the passage of any act which would have the effect of taking from the companies the monopoly which it is alleged they now enjoy.

A Louisville woman uses to have her missing husband adjudged dead. J. W. Cook, of Nicholasville, aged 62, died at the Confederate Home. Dr. S. H. Lawrence, one of the best known men of the mountain section, dropped dead at Hydes.

March 9 has been decided upon as the day of the trial of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, at Cleveland. The indolent charging Manager W. J. Davis, of the Inquirer Theater at Chicago, with manslaughter on account of the loss of life in the theater fire was quashed on a technicality. The will of the late Mrs. George F. Sharp, of San Francisco, provides for a $200,000 gateway to the parkland at Golden Gate Park as a memorial to her first husband, Judge W. L. Pierce.

Moss Feliter completed his sensational affidavit. He will ask the Governor to protect him with troops when he goes back to Jackson, living in fear of assassination. He connects Jim Hargis with the assassination of Dr. Cox. A fraud order has been issued by the Postoffice Department against the Kentucky Distributing Co., of Covington. The company has been offering to send four quarts of ten-year-old whiskey and one quart of 15-year-old whiskey for $2.50, the 15-year-old variety being "moonshine," which was alleged to have been discovered by accident.

"How do you account for the fact," asked the doctor, "as shown by actual investigation, that 32 out of every 100 criminals in the country are left-handed?"

"That's easily accounted for," said the professor. "The other 68 are right-handed." —"Tid."

The Japanese Emperor's yearly expense of living is $1,000,000 for this purpose he draws $3,000,000 from the National Treasury. His personal wealth is not to be reckoned on his own living, so that $3,000,000 is really his salary as manager of the country.

It needs but little foresight, to tell that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women.
